VOL. II.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1883.

NO. 182.

A snow is billed for Thanksgiving day, by the Almanacs.

J. L. TAYLOR & Co., moved back to their old stand yesterday.

THE High Bridge camp-grounds are to be sold for a debt of $1,000.

A TURKEY in Harrison county weighed thirty-two pounds net.

THE Weber Combination did not show here last night, according to promise.

FERRY, the telegraph-repairer, fell from a ladder and knocked a wrist out of joint.

A SEVERE wind storm bent the cross on the Episcopal church, Wednesday night.

HEAVY rains at Indianapolis Wednesday, damaged property to the extent of $250,000.

DR. LEWIS, a dentist at Junction City, was killed by the cars near that place Tuesday.

DR. SHACKLEFORD'S stable burned in Maysville, Tuesday night. His horses were saved.

TWO of the Phoenix Hotel waiters had a fight, and one bit half of the other's right ear off.

PAY your subscription and we'll thank you very kindly, whether it is Thanksgiving day or not.

THE County Judge of Barren county receives an annual salary of $500; the County Attorney $400.

COUNTRY people do not like the new time, on account of it making the servants late about getting up.

A. M. KELLER & Co. are rebuilding their store room at Shawhan, and will rent it when completed.

CHICKENS crowing twenty minutes before the proper time to get up, ought to be reported to Conference.

OVER twenty additions have been made to the Methodist Church at the revival now going on in Maysville.

MT. STERLING has a gambling hell, and the Sentinel office has a devil-of-a time getting along without money.

A WIND storm blew down about a mile of fence for Thos. Waller, in the Hutchinson precinct, Wednesday night.

AWAY up above the stench of the Maysville hogs, the Bulletin is sniffing the scent of fresh sauer kraut in the breeze.

THE prisoners in the Marshall, Mo., jail set fire to it, and when the doors were opened in answer to their cries, six of them escaped.

NEWBERN, Tenn., has a law that imposes a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $50 on any person who goes into a saloon on Sunday.

FRANK ARMSTRONG says that the County Treasury is badly in need of taxes, and request all persons owing that fund, to walk in and settle.

SMALL-POX has broken out in the Speedwell neighborhood in Madison county, and several deaths have taken place among the colored folks.

RUDDLES MILLS has decided to run things by the old time, and any man caught tinkering with the time in that city will be severely dealt with.

OLIVER ARGO, the nice young dude barber has bought a half interest in Henry Damm's shop. Persons studying their own interests, will give him a call.

LYTER & JOHNSON, clothiers of Richmond, formerly of this city, are offering a $15 overcoat for the two best ears of corn shown at their store on or before Dec. 8.

A CONVICT got out of the barracks on the Kentucky Union Railroad, broke into a store and stole a suit of clothes, then took a horse and escaped, Monday night.

HON. A. C. ARMSTRONG, ex-representative of Bracken county, was crushed to death Tuesday by the ell of his house falling on him which he was helping to raise.

YOUNG MORAN bought ten fat hogs from Sidney P. Clay, which averaged 420 pounds, at $1.15. These are the best early hogs that have passed through here this season.

TO-DAY and Sunday are the 19th anniversaries of the battles of Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge—the former being witnessed, and the latter participated in, by the "Orphan Brigade."

THE Mt. Sterling Sentinel held a little Thanksgiving day over three turkeys which weighed 11 pounds and 14 ounces. Now somebody take the hungry man in a peck or two of hickory nuts.

THE new standard time doesn't effect Dr. Charlie Fithian's connection with the trains. He carries two watches, with both old and new time. Nothing in railroad mysteries can down him.

TOM HOLLIDAY now has his headquarters at Laughlin's butcher shop, where he keeps mince meat, apple, peach and quince butter and all kinds of preserves made by the Shakers, and can sell them at very low figures. Give him a call.

TOMORROW, the sheriff will sell twenty-four houses in Buckerville, the property of H. M. Rucker, to satisfy a large lot of claims from Dan to Bersheba. Persons desiring free bus tickets to attend the sale, will apply to Sheriff Armstrong.

TURKEYS are always getting people into trouble. Tuesday morning a flock on Green Clay's farm scared a horse, which overturned a cart on three little colored children, and one of them was injured so severely that it died in a few minutes.

BATTERTON & JAMES have a barrel of 14 years-old whiskey, for which they paid $7 per gallon. They bought it specially for their Italian trade, and are selling it at 25 cents a drink. Anybody knowing of the whereabouts of Antonio Costa, will please direct him hither.

DAVIS JOHNSON, a Hoosier, is under arrest in Louisville, for outrage on a nine-year-old girl.

"WHAT I know about Fishing, and the Law protecting the same," is a new book now in press, by Roger O'Connor. Judge Morten has subscribed for the first copy.

REV. JNO. FORE, a colored minister was shot and killed Tuesday, near Peytonia, Shelby county, by a colored woman named Mrs. Joe Walker, who refused to marry him, and whose life he had threatened.

CONDUCTOR GREEN, of the M. & L. branch, killed 4 rabbits in 32 shots a few days ago, and tore the seat out of his pants so that he couldn't go to dinner, besides. He now accuses the boys of running in blank cartridges on him.

SIX prisoners were sentenced to the penitentiary from the Clark County Circuit Court: Henry Tauner and Henry Lish, stealing; Henry Hume, shooting; Allen Jones and John Pindexter, burglary; and Wm. Noe, for throwing a stone through a car window.

THE Supreme Court of Georgia has decided that railroads are liable for accidents to their employees, even where they have signed what is known as the "death warrant," which is a contract signed by employees, exempting the road from a liability to damages under any consideration.

WIGGINS & ASHBROOK, Real Estate, Stock, Bond and Note Brokers, is the style of a new firm late started at No. 55 West Fourth-street, Cincinnati. Mr. Ben. Ashbrook was formerly of the firm of Ashbrook, Tucker & Co., of Cincinnati. Mr. O. J. Wiggins is the well known Covingtonian. (Covington Commonwealth.)

THE turkey market became glutted here the first of the week. On Tuesday, two droves aggregating 2,215 arrived here, but were refused on the market—our local buyers being no longer willing to pay 8 cents owing to the depression in the market East. They are now being fed out on the North Middletown pike, with the hopes of a rise in the market.

H. J. SCHWARTZ & Bro. will move next week to their building at Hill's old stand, which has been very handsomely refitted in the very latest improved style. They will have an elegant saloon and billiard hall. They have a fine large beer cellar, capable of storing away several hundred kegs of beer, and will at all times be prepared to supply the retail trade of not only this city, but all country towns with the best beer. See their advertisement.

JOS. M. JONES, our Circuit Clerk recently made a trip to St. Louis, in the interest of his patent wheel barrow, which just now is enjoying quite a boom—the manufactory at Chicago not being able to supply the demand for the five Western states which he has sold to one firm. He expects to sell several southern states in a few days, and establish a manufactory at Nashville, where he will also receive a royalty on every barrow manufactured as is now the case with Chicago manufactory.

THE Killed in a Few Battles.

A STATISTICAL report of the great battles of the war shows that at Shiloh, the Federals lost in killed, 17,350 men, and the Confederates 1,728, a difference of only 8. THE "Garfield" Church.

THE new Christian church in Washington, known as the Garfield Memorial church, is nearly completed, and will be opened for public worship by the first of December. Seven massive trusses support the roof. These are painted light brown with a bordering darker shade. The panels of each side are filled out with squares of blue, surrounded by a white bordering, while the centre of the ceiling is finished in fine mosaic work. Four cathedral windows of the ancient Egyptian pattern admit the daylight. The platform for the pulpit is of poplar and back of that is the baptistry. The auditorium is lighted by a chandelier suspended between the middle arches from the ceiling and by brackets on the side. Back of the church proper is the chapel, the pastor's study, social and class rooms.

A War Difficulty Settled With a Drink.

DURING the war, on one occasion as Jim Batterton, the Delmonico saloonist of this place, was riding a stubborn mule into a little creek to water, he had a private difficulty with his mule, and the hard-headed brute backed up against General Abe Buford's leg with such a severe suddenness as to cause his irritable passions to rise to such a pitch that he drew his sword and excitedly said: "G—d—n you, if you don't get away from here with your d—d mule, I'll cut your d—d head off and the mule's too!" Yesterday morning as the General was paying his compliments to the NEWS, we took him over and introduced him to the Delmonico rider of the mule, where the reminiscence was laughed over, and the difficulty amicably adjusted by the General getting "shot" in the neck with a drink of seven-years-old whiskey.

THE News a Peculiar Paper.

THERE ought to be a newspaper established in every town for the purpose of publishing free, all obituaries, resolutions on the departure of Sunday-school teachers and scholars, calls on candidates and their replies, puffs on preachers and occasionally their sermons in full, puffs on all children visiting everywhere, and brag on all the hogs, tobacco, Christmas gifts—and, above all, to publish all original poetry and all anonymous communications. We are happy to announce to a reasoning, thinking public, that we publish no such paper at this office, and that we are under no obligations to our subscribers further than to give them a good newspaper—one worth more money than forty free puff slush papers. Remember that all such luxuries as above referred to, are published only at our regular advertising rates—10 cents per line.
